Executive Leadership Forum: Navigating the Future of Finance

Meet our Panelist:

Dr. Belisa Marochi

Professor, Hult International Business School Dubai

Professor Belisa Marochi, PhD is an internationally recognized academic, researcher, and executive educator at Hult International Business School, with expertise spanning leadership, sustainability, international relations, organizational transformation, and future-focused business strategy. She has taught and conducted research across Europe, the United States, Africa, the Middle East, and Asia, while advising multinational organizations on leadership, consumer insights, and sustainable business practices.

A TEDx speaker and recipient of Hult's Professor of the Year recognition, Dr. Marochi is known for translating complex global trends into practical leadership insights that inspire action. Her work on representation, influence, and authentic leadership positions her to provide a compelling perspective on building a meaningful digital presence and personal brand.

As a panelist at the Executive Leadership Forum: Navigating the Future of Finance, she will contribute thought-provoking perspectives on adaptive leadership, strategic foresight, and building resilient organizations that can thrive amid disruption, innovation, and an increasingly interconnected global economy.
